You were going to do an informal discipline to have some documentation in the file correct? Have you done a discipline yet? I would consider yesterday a no call/no show and add it to the discipline if you have not done it.

Joyce received a call Monday that Crystal's house had been broken into and she would not be in that day. We did not hear from her at all yesterday. Today I just received a call from her husband stating that they are still trying to get things resolved after the break in and she would not be back in until the 19th.
